Kahuna's Korner

Spring is here and everyone is out and riding, the only problem is one day you can have on a light jacket, and the very next day you will be plugging in your heated jacket. But no matter what the temp is it feels good to go for a long ride and see the country.

I had the chance to take a business trip, by plane to Texas, and on every plane I was on, I had the window seat. Now riding the bike through the country roads, with their long lazy curves and bends from state to state is fun and full of beautiful sights, but to see it from 27,000 feet was breath taking, and as the pilot banked the plane left and right it felt like I was on the bike. That's the feeling I have when riding, it's like having the freedom of flying.

After my trip ended and returned home, I still remember the sights I saw and can't wait to hit the road with Crystal and make some new memories. I can't understand why people vacation in other countries, when they live in one of the most beautiful countries on earth.

Well that's all for now, until next month, have a nice ride and be safe.

The answer to last months question was Scientifically Treated Petroleum.

Trivia Question:
In 1952, this was the first toy to be advertised on TV

Here's a clue: It was one of the characters in the movie Toy Story.

Riff Raff Egg Hunt

On April 5th, we had a motorcycle Egg Hunt. There were 4 stops. First was Russ & Cathy's, then up to Myk & Susie's, which confused Lu. Myk took us in a different way and when we stopped in front of their house, Lu asked why were we stopping here?!? The candy was pretty melted and some of us had to open our eggs and just tilt our heads back to eat it. Then it was onto the Medic Station where Barb had hidden a lot of eggs. Lu and I decided to leave there early to set up our house because that was the last stop and everyone was coming for a picnic.

If you may remember the day before was quite windy so we didn't want to set up anything and find it had blown away. Amy came along to help. No eggs were put in the tree this year so the squirrels had to find their own snacks.

There were hot dogs and hamburgers left over from the Luau last year, different kinds of salads, punch and of course Desserts. A nice surprise was Don & Millie showing up to join us. I think everyone had a good time and I know they had enough to eat because there was a lot left over. This is what Lu and I enjoy the most about the Riff Raff. Whether we are bowling, riding or just hanging out and eating, we are all together and we always have a great time.

Can't wait for the Progressive Dinner Ride. YUMMO!!!!
